CITY COLLEGE AT ST. PATRICK'S

BULLAL REATE BY A PRIEST A THE CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL.

per Duyle Says the Roman Church Is a triendly tritle of Public School System Its Demand for Religious Training

sergre from the established order age of the City of New York was terday when the members of the adjusting class went to a Roman Catholic listen to a baccalaureate adoriest. St. Patrick's tathedral he church, and the Rev. Alexander Dovie of the Paulist Fathers was the to to 30 in the morning the 204 young men of the graduating class marched into he tathedral and took seats on either side main aisle, which had been set apart or them. Already an audience of relayes and friends which fairly filled the ody of the Cathedral had assembled. The occasion was an unusual one and had aght about in this way: A comattee from the college called upon Father have several weeks ago and invited him deliver the baccalaureate address to the iass of '02. He accepted the invitation anddion that the exercises might be held in the Cathedral and with Archbishop orrigan's consent. The matter was then laid before Father Michael J Lavelle, rector of the Cathedral, who placed it before the late Archbishop Corrigan consented readily and expressed his approval of the plan. He would have been an interested listener vesterday had he been alive.

In the course of his address Father Doyle explained the attitude of the Roman Catho thurch toward the public school system. He said in part

He said in part.

It is both a pleasure and a duty that is conserted on me this morning. It is a pleasure to be invited to deliver the first baccalaurante senior to the young gentlemen of the College of the city of New York from the pulpit of the tatholic cathedral church of this city, it is my duty to say to you some words that vill so rouch your hearts at this auspicious time, as you are casting aside the trammels of the schoolicoon and facing the larger libershes of life, that they will help to make you etter men, more keenly appreciative of the exponsibilities of life and more eager in the tramment of the high purposes which your raining and education have established thin your hearts.

If there he any special significance in your athering beneath the arches of this great schedral and under the auspices of the real tatholic Church it is the reiteration of reafficiation of a principle so very well nown by the world at large, and yet, at times, egindenicly admitted, and sometimes even midd by some of our professional eductors it is the profound and practical symithy the catholic Church possesses for the test educational agencies of the world.

retends to criticise, it is the part of enemies to acts control.

What the public school system stands for, that is a system of education whereby all the children of the common people may enjoy the apportunities of intellectual development this principle the Catholic Church does now maintain, and has always maintained as a vital principle of her policy among the cations of the earth. By her teachings she hans ignorance and illiteracy and places them in the category of things that degrade and brutalize, while, on the other hand, she makes adequate knowledge a stepping-stone to the vestibule of the temple of faith. No one may enter there unless he has passed over this royal road and climbed the mystic say and is able to stand a test of the knowledge that the laws of the church toward education is summed up in the following statement: As man is a being composed of body, mind and conscience, a sound system of education, to do its best work, must endeavor to develop all three with equal effort if it does not, if it neglects one or the other, it creates a one-sided being, and as a tree that grows on one side cannot stand the stress of the storm, the prodet of a one-sided education does not make the material of which lasting republics are built.

The Catholic Church does commend the are built thurch does commend the The Cathode Church does commend the sable school system and is not in any vense astile to its highest purposes, but it takes he liberty to say, as is the right of every one the liberty to say, as is the right of every one the liberty to say, as is the right of every one the liberty to say, as is the right of every one. The first persons to register this year were John L. Carr and Mi. and Mrs. William E. Latham of New York. For twenty years the training of the highest nature man has e training of the highest nature man has the hotel. In assuming this critical attitude the Church no more hostile to the public schools as a system of popular education, than were the millions of devoted soldiers who fought and bled that the Constitution of the United States might be so amended that every one in this broad land may enjoy the right of manhood and suffrage, no matter what his tage or origin or his previous condition of

we believe the day is not far distant and we believe the day is not far distant when the sreat men of our country, who have the highest interests at heart, will turn their attention to the solution of this great rochiem. The gathering under these suspices this morning will affirm our sympathy with the great educational agencies of the country, and will hasten the day when they will reach their highest perfection

VICTORY FOR CORNELL. Attorney-General Refuses to Bring Suit

to Oust It From Forest Lands ALBANY, June 14 - Attorney-General Julian Davies to-day denied the application f Eric S. Swenson asking the Attorney-General to begin an action on behalf of he people of the State to dispossess the state School of Forestry, connected with Cornell University, of 30,000 acres of forest ands in Franklin county, purchased for e forestry school with State money. The application was made upon the ground that the purchase and holding of such lands by the forestry school were unconstitutional Residents of New York city, who have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars for Adirondack camps and preserves, joined Mr. Swenson in pushing this application. Complaint had been made that portions of the tract had been denuded and that the 8 gar Trust, through the Brooklyn Coop-erage Company, was operating a cooperage Cornell University acquired the land elf, although the State paid $165,000 for the university to hold the land for thirty rears to practise scientific forestry the the end of which period title to the land

In the application it was alleged that the State had no right to pay or the land to be held by the university, and that as the State's money was used, the land became a part of the State forest preserve the a part of the state formel without ded could not be used by Cornell without solating that provision of the Constitution hich says the lands of the State, now want or hereafter acquired, constituting the forest preserve, shall forever be kept as wild forest lands.

In answer to this the Attorney-General In answer to this the Attorney-General says that on the university's acceptance of the act of the Legislature giving it the use of the land for thirty years there resulted a complete and valid contract between it and the State, by the terms of which the university agreed to do certain things which, in the opinion of the Legislature, were valuable to the State, and in

A payment made by the State under such conditions is not unconstitutional and is not a gift, or gratuity. It is the payment of a contract obligation.

AMATEUR WRESTLER INSANE. The Girl Who Promised to Marry Him

Refused at the Last Minute. BUFFALO, June 14 .- Jacob Gessert, & local amateur wrestler and formerly a prominent member of the Turnverein, became insane at his home, 505 Elm street, this morning, and for two hours terrorized all the people in his block. He was armed with an old-fashioned Colt's revolver and held up trolley cars, milkmen and grocers until he blockaded the street in front of his home. Forumately, the pistol was not loaded. Four jolicemen were required to capture the man.

Gessert became insane because the girl who had promised to marry him refused to do so at the last minute. The marriage was set for last Thursday night, and since then Gessert displayed symptoms of in-sanity. It is said the girl's refusal to marry him was determined upon when she learned accidentally that Gessert became insane two years ago in a Main street store and cleaned out the place before he was secured.

Kansas Needs Men and Machinery for Her

WICHITA, Kan., June 14. Calls are coming to this city from all over the Kansas wheat belt for men and teams to take care of the harvest. It is estimated that $,000 extra hands will be needed for the fourteen wheat counties tributary to this city. The farmers also find themselves short of machinery, especially bin-lers, which the dealers are out of, not having ordered enough owing to the general belief earlier in the season that the wheat crop would be something of a failure. of a failure.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., June 14 -- Edward J. Reilly and William H. Ganley were in a saloon on Pike street last night and Ganley knocked a cigarette from Reilly's hand Hot words were exchanged and blows followed Later they went in the street and the fight was renewed. Ganley hit Reilly in the leg and then pulled from his pocket a knife and drove the blade into Reilly's left groin, nearly severing a main artery Reilly ran up Pike street, but fell from loss of blood to the sidewalk, where he was discovered and carried to the Ganley was later arrested at his hme Ganley was later arrested at his hme and placed in jail. A large crowd gathered in front of the jail and threats of lynching were heard. Chief of Police Westbrook, fearing trouble, placed nearly all the police force about the jail. To-day, when Ganley was taken to the police court for examination, he was followed by 500 men and boys. Coroner Decker of Middletown took Reilly's ante-mortem statement to-day. Ganley was for many years a saloon-former officeholder. Reilly was in the Spanish-American War and saw service at San Juan Hill and later was stationed at Morro Castle.

Committee:

Some misunderstanding having arisen as to the true intent of the circular of the Clearing House Committee, issued Feb. 3, 1973, the committee desire to state that the ruling therein given was for the purpose of checking unauthorized use of the Clearing House privileges by parties who adopted methods of evading the responsibilities regularly assumed by non-member institutions. In the interest of the valuable franchise that belongs to every member of the association, they feel that all evasions and irregular methods should be discouraged, and they ask the cooperation of each individual bank to that end. The attention of members is again called to the circular issued by this committee, Feb. 4, 1992.

The circular of Feb. 3 called attention to the fact that out-of-town checks, stamped
